Family Dinner

Dining Alone in the age of AI

You are invited at an intriguing dinner table, with three strange hosts to entertain you and accompany you during your meal.

As the dinner evolves, you start understanding the family language between these three creatures: what they like, what they dislike and how they try to interact with you.

In the beginning you might be confused at what they are trying to tell you, but if you are patient enough you will soon feel welcome at this curious family drama.

All documentation:

- References
- Day-by-day process
- User Tests
- Feasibility studies

In the github repo: https://github.com/egazzarr/head-md-AI-family